THYROID PHYSIOLOGY

2. The pituitary gland releases the hormone TSH, which stimulates the thyroid gland

Thyroid Gland

4. As T3 and T4 are made, they signal i the hypothalamus and pituitary to STOP stimulating. Ie when T3 and T4 are adequate, no more needs to be made

T3 & T4 inhibition

> These are the actual thyroid hormones

Increased metabolism Growth and development Increased catecholamine effect

